

U.S. Environmental Protection Agency
Office of Research and Development (ORD) CROSS-ORD INTERDISCIPLINARY POST-DOCTORAL RESEARCH PROGRAM

ORD is accepting applications through April 24, 2009 for several Federal, four-year, Post-Doctoral positions. Candidates will engage in cross-cutting research in one of the following identified areas:

- Adaptation to the Effects of Global Climate Change on Water and Aquatic Systems
- Assessment of the Ecological Effects of Biofuels
- Biostatistical Analysis of Multi-Pollutant Exposure and Relationship to Effects
- Decision Analysis Improving Environmental Solutions
- Development of Methods to Assess Health Risks Due to Waterborne Pathogens
- Linking Exposure and Effects Models: An Integrated Toxicology Approach
- Predictive Modeling of Developmental Toxicity
- Regional Impacts of Climate Change on Water Availability and Ecosystem Services

Mentors will be assigned from appropriate ORD Labs and Centers based upon the nature of the cross-ORD interdisciplinary research.

FULL FEDERAL EMPLOYMENT BENEFITS

- Salary range of $56,411 - $87,893
- Full four-year appointments
- Paid relocation to EPA duty location
- Vacation and sick leave
- Federal health benefits, life insurance, and retirement program
- Travel to professional and scientific meetings
- Flexible start date in 2009

REQUIREMENTS - Applicants must provide the following by April 24, 2009:

- Up-to-date Curriculum Vitae
- Letter of recommendation from your research advisor or comparable official
- Cover letter indicating:
  - Position(s) of interest, your email address, U. S. citizenship status
  - summary of relevant experience, and
  - a paragraph describing the research you would like to conduct
- DD-214, if claiming veteran's preference

A preference is given to U.S. Citizens. Detailed information and contacts are posted on the ORD Website at: http://www.epa.gov/ord/htm/jobs\_ord.htm.

General inquiries can be directed to: Dorothy Carr at ordpostdocapps@epa.gov or 1-800-433-9633.

The U.S. EPA is an Equal Opportunity Employer